Response:

Thank you for your inquiry. EPA continues to work with its state partners and facilities to gather more refined information on ethylene oxide emissions and is committed to sharing information to protect public health and the environment. Under the provisions of the Clean Air Act, EPA has delegated authority to the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (PADEP) which includes implementation of its air program. Because the air program is delegated locally to Pennsylvania, your concerns may best be addressed at PADEP's Northeast Office. Please contact Mark Wejkszner, the Air Quality Program Manager, at (570) 826-2357.

Hi:

Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP)

Am I in the neighborhood that was extremely effected by Braun Medical?

Also, have the toxic, environmental problems caused by this facility been resolved?

Please send me answers to these questions and email address of contact person regarding further questions.

Thank you,
